Exclusive English Training

The Premier Executive Programme includes a range of English language training options for busy executives and professionals who need an English course which provides significant progress in the minimum of time.

Each course option is highly intensive and concentrated into a short time-frame so that you are not away from work for too long.

As there are no fixed course dates, you have the flexibility to organise your training for a time that is convenient for you.

The Premier Executive courses can be used in two distinct ways:

Either

- As a single injection of concentrated training, a one-off course, to deal with a specific issue e.g. to prepare for an important presentation or meeting.

Or

- These short intensive courses can be taken at regular intervals to build up into a substantial programme of English training over a period of time.
